Collins Asks State To Select Attorney

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — John N. Collins, accused of slaying a pretty coed schoolmate, today asked the state to appoint attorneys to defend him against the first-degree murder charge he faces.

"To have him properly defended, we feel we ought to enlist the financial help of the county," Hale P. Saph III, an attorney for Collins' mother, told the court.

Collins is accused of strangling to death an 18-year-old Eastern Michigan University freshman, Karen Sue Beineman. His preliminary examination on the charge was adjourned until Aug. 14.

Collins was brought to the small, red brick courthouse under tight security several hours before today's examination was to begin. He was whisked away immediately afterward and returned to the Washtenaw County jail where he is being held without bond.

No Resources

Attorneys for Collins and his mother told Ypsilanti District Judge Edward Deake that the family did not have the resources to pay for a full dress defense of the 22-year-old EMU senior.

Collins told the judge he had consulted with his attorneys and agreed to their motion.

Judge Deake asked Collins what money or property he had and Collins replied, "One motor-cycle."

Collins was being defended by Ann Arbor attorneys Robert Francis and John M. Toomey.

By court rules, however, they may not be appointed by the state as his counsel.

The examination was postponed to give the state time to appoint new attorneys and to give those attorneys time to ready their case.

Judge's Opinion

In Michigan a judge, rather than a grand jury, determines, after a preliminary examination in open court, whether there is reason to hold a defendant for trial.

Meanwhile, Andrew J. Manuel, a friend of Collins, is being held at the federal detention center in Florence, Ariz., in lieu of $10,000 bond on a charge of interstate flight to avoid prosecution in Michigan for larceny. He was arrested in Phoenix Wednesday.

Michigan authorities plan to question Manuel about the Michigan slayings and California officials said he was wanted as a material witness in the murder of a young Oregon woman near Milpitas, Calif.

The slain coed was last seen riding away from an Ypsilanti wig shop with a young man on a motorcycle. Her body was found in a ravine north of Ypsilanti.

No Charges

The cases of six other women slain in the area since 1967 remain unsolved. Five of the killings were committed in the last five months.

Collins has not been charged in any of the other killings, although authorities have repeatedly said he has not been eliminated as a possible suspect.

In Florence, Manuel awaits an Aug. 13 hearing on the federal flight charge in connection with the alleged theft of a house trailer from a Ypsilanti rental agency.

Tornadoes Slash Into Minnesota

OUTING, Minn. (AP) — At least eight tornadoes clawed off the heavily hit areas around Outing and nearby Etna.

The Weather Bureau said it was the worst loss of life from tornadoes in history for the northern Minnesota area.

Duluth Area

There were fears the death toll might rise because of fishermen unaccounted for on many lakes.

One of the worst-hit spots was this resort community, a town of 300 that triples in size each summer as vacationers flock to area lakes.

One twister shredded homes and summer cottages on Roosevelt Lake, just outside Outing. Fourteen persons were killed and hundreds were injured.

There were fears the death toll might rise because of fishermen unaccounted for on many lakes.

The Weather Bureau estimated that at least eight wind funnels were involved. Also hard hit were the Hibbing, Floodwood and Duluth regions.

Ten persons were brought to hospitals in the Hibbing-Chisholm-Virginia area. Another six were taken to hospitals in Duluth.

Ralph S. Moore, a power company employee staying at Island Lake near Duluth, said the storm hit with a "pure white curtain of wind-driven rain."

It took two hours to clear a path through fallen trees for ambulances to reach the scene. Shattered trees were piled and twisted like wooden matches in the Outing area, a blend of thick forests, lakes and small farms.

Lovell, Shepard Will Command Apollo Flights

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The first American in space and the man who has spent the most time there will command moon-landing flights in 1970, the space agency says.

Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., who has more space hours than any other astronaut, will command the Apollo 13 flight to the moon scheduled for next March, the agency announced Wednesday.

Navy Capt. Alan B. Shepard Jr., who put America into space with a 15-minute flight in 1961 and hasn't flown since, will command the Apollo 14 moon landing scheduled for next July.

Space rookies fill in the balance of both crews.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Thomas P. Mattingly II, 33, and civilian Fred W. Haise Jr., 35, will fly with Lovell on Apollo 13.

With Shepard on Apollo 14 will be Air Force Capt. Stuart A. Roosa, 35, and Navy Cmdr. Edgar D. Mitchell, 38.

The Apollo 12 crew had already been named. All Navy, it is commanded by Capt. Charles Conrad and includes Cmdrs. Richard L. Gordon and Alan L. Bean. Apollo 12 is scheduled for November.

Lovell's flight will be to the mysterious lunar highlands area called Fra Mauro, just south of the moon's equator and just west of center. This will be the first attempt to land in the mountains of the moon.

Apollo 12's destination is the Ocean of Storms, in the western part of the moon.

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong staged two sensational attacks today, penetrating the supposedly secure U.S. base at Cam Ranh bay, hurling bombs and firing rifles at hospital patients, and setting off a bomb in front of an American-run language school in Saigon. Casualties were heavy in both.

The U.S. Command said two Americans were killed and 57 wounded as the Viet Cong rampaged through a block-long Army convalescent hospital in Cam Ranh Bay, 195 miles northeast of Saigon. All except four of the wounded were patients. The four were members of the hospital staff. The Viet Cong did not lose a man.

Military spokesmen said Viet Cong terrorists set off a 60-pound bomb in front of the language school in Saigon, killing eight Vietnamese and wounding 62, including 23 U.S. Air Force men. Three of the Americans were hospitalized.

The dead were five civilians and three soldiers. Of the wounded, 30 were Vietnamese soldiers, six were Vietnamese civilians and three were Thai soldiers.

Damage to buildings was heavy in both attacks. Associated Press Writer Rick Merron reported from Cam Ranh Bay that more than a dozen buildings were destroyed or damaged.

Tragedy early today ended a camping vacation for an Evanston, Ill., father and his three sons when a large tree, blown down by the wind, crashed onto their tent, killing the youngest boy at Wells State Park 30 miles south of Escanaba.

Fatally injured was Leif Goodman, 11, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Goodman of Evanston.

Escaping with minor injuries to both legs was Stephen Goodman, 16, Leif's brother. Another brother, Keith, was unharmed.

State Police of the Stephenon post reported the accident occurred about 1:30 a.m. in a violent windstorm that blew down trees and overturned trailers at the State Park on the Green Bay shore.

Goodman and his sons were in their tent in the campgrounds when the tragedy occurred. Among the trees blown down by the high wind was a cedar tree about 60 feet tall, which fell on the Goodman tent.

Mrs. Goodman had not accompanied her husband and sons on the trip.

The body of Leif was taken to the Cadiou Funeral Home and the injured Stephen was rushed to St. Joseph-Lloyd Hospital at Menominee. Stephen was treated and released.

State Police said that a path about 200 to 300 yards wide through the popular park near Cedar River in Menominee County received the brunt of the storm. Winds estimated up to 50 or more miles an hour toppled trees and rolled sports trailers on their sides.

In the Escanaba area the rain and wind caused apprehension but there was no great damage and no one was injured.

The two cast identical no votes on an amendment by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, which would have barred all spending on Safeguard. That amendment was defeated 89-11.

The spokesman reported the escaping terrorists planted booby traps wrapped in pink paper and at least one other bomb in the neighborhood but all failed to explode.

Cam Ranh Bay was considered the most secure of all U.S. bases in Vietnam, and the attack caught the Americans by surprise.

Boy Camper, 11, Killed When Tree Blows Onto Tent

In the 2400 block of Ludington St. a city electric utility pole was toppled by the wind across the entrance to United Van Lines. The buildings were undamaged.

From Little and Big Bays de Noe shore resorts came reports of docks and boats being pounded by waves and wind. The Garden area was hit by the storm with damage to shore abas.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued a tornado watch at 11:40 p.m. Wednesday, with the greatest danger area around Marquette, and cancelled it three hours later.

Isolated severe thunderstorms with locally damaging winds occurred during the period.

Affects of the high winds around the state included a report from the Houghton County sheriff's department that uprooted trees and downed powerlines were blocking highway M-26 in the Atlantic Mine area. No injuries were reported in that area.

Hart, Griffin Split On ABM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's U.S. senators split in the crucial votes which cleared the way for the Safeguard antiballistic missile system.

On the 51-49 vote by which an amendment which would have restricted Safeguard to research and development, Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., a co-sponsor of the amendment, voted yes and Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., voted no.

The two cast identical no votes on an amendment by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, which would have barred all spending on Safeguard. That amendment was defeated 89-11.

GOP Opponent Doubts Missiles To Be Deployed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two dramatic Senate votes have given President Nixon a narrow victory for his Safeguard program — but one Republican opponent says he still doesn't think the missile defense system will be deployed.

"I seriously doubt that Safeguard will ever be deployed," Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey said after Wednesday's show-down voting.

And Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., one of the leaders of the anti-Safeguard forces, said he doubts the Pentagon expects to be able to deploy Safeguard soon.

Cooper told reporters the Pentagon plans to spend $120 million this year on advanced antiballistic missile—ABM—research, beyond Safeguard, although the sum is not mentioned in the report on the legislation currently before the Senate.

Amendments Lose

The decisive ABM votes, after months of controversy and weeks of debate, came Wednesday on two somewhat similar amendments aimed at barring deployment of the Safeguard system but continuing ABM research.

Neither would have eliminated any of the $759.1 million earmarked for the ABM in the $20 billion military procurement authorization bill.

The first, offered by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, failed on a 50-50 tie. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew cast a 51st but unnecessary negative vote. Mrs. Smith's proposal was to bar any further spending except for components such as radars and computers.

Then the Senate voted 51-49 against the amendment by Sens. Cooper and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who have led the year-long fight against ABM. Their proposal would have limited the Safeguard program to research and development with no deployment or site acquisition.

Nixon Pleased

Sens. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., and John J. Williams, R-Del., ended their silence on the ABM to join the administration in opposing the amendments.

A White House spokesman said after the voting that President Nixon "is very pleased, of course." But he said no statement would be issued.

The Senate is the big test for the ABM program, since the House is considered to have a substantial majority favoring Safeguard.

Although Wednesday's voting was billed as the crucial test for ABM, another proposed compromise was scheduled for a vote today in the Senate. Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., sponsored the amendment to deploy ABM computers and radars—but not missiles.

Both sides predicted the McIntyre amendment would fail by a considerable margin.

Other ABM amendments are possible, but none is expected.

Renew Battle

Cooper and Hart, who said they would renew their battle later this year on the defense appropriations bill, conceded their chances would diminish after Wednesday's votes.

"Today was the chief decision," Cooper said later. "I think we will have trouble from here."

Some ABM foes, meanwhile, expressed the hope that the debate would mark the start of a

Air Passenger Traffic Climbs

North Central Airlines passenger traffic at the Escanaba Municipal Airport continues to increase month by month over last year's record highs, according to reports by Jon Thorin, airport manager.

In July the figures for this year were 2,634 passengers compared to 2,116 for the same month a year ago.

The total number of passengers served by North Central at Escanaba in 1968 was 22,833. This set a new record and established the passenger volume growth at Escanaba as the fastest-growing in the Upper Peninsula.

For the first seven months of this year the total number of passengers served at Escanaba is 13,967.

Bay Schedules Orientation

Bay de Noc Community College has scheduled Student Orientations from August 11th through the 13th, 1969 for new students registering for the Fall Semester which begins Aug. 26. Student Orientations are intended to assist the incoming transfer or freshman student adjust to Bay de Noc campus locations, facilities, services and procedures.

The orientations are scheduled at 9:30 and 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. daily and require about one hour to complete. Registration procedures for fall term, business affairs, tuition fees, housing requests and parent approval, and job placement activities are among the several things incoming students will find informative.

Academic policies and procedures for dropping, adding or withdrawing from classes will be discussed along with the advising and counseling services available to assure the student a proper selection of courses and programs.

Guided tours of both the present campus on 12th St. and the new campus on US-2 will be available. Transportation by bus for the campus tours will be available.

Orientations precede the Fall Term registration scheduled for Aug. 21, 22 and 23.

Special Luggage Hauls Moon Dust

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Seven specially equipped pieces of luggage will be shipped to space agency headquarters in Houston this weekend to pick up a precious cargo.

The suitcases, outfitted with vacuum tanks and a portable power supply, will be used to send moon dust to scientists around the world.

Two suitcases of dust will be returned here for study by scientists at Oak Ridge National Laboratory. A laboratory spokesman said they will study the dust's age, element makeup, radiation, bacteria content, possible uses and other aspects in an effort to unravel the moon's mystery.

Five other suitcases of dust will be sent abroad for study.

The proposed public corporation also will check large-scale poaching in the game preserves.

Elgas To Tell 'Gaylord Story'

Harold A. Elgas, president of the Gaylord State Bank, will tell "The Gaylord Story, the Modern Renaissance of a Small Town" at a meeting of downtown businesses called by the Downtown Development Committee of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce Friday noon at the Sherman Hotel.

Elgas has served as president of the Gaylord State Bank since 1959. A native of Cadillac, Elgas joined the Cadillac State Bank on July 1, 1940 and served that institution until 1958.

Those planning to attend the Friday noon luncheon are reminded to call the Chamber office, 786-2192, for reservations. Elgas will show slides of the Gaylord renovation program. Both property owners and business men are invited to attend.

Co-Chairman Robert Mosenfelder said today that businesses in the 800 through 1300 blocks in the downtown business area will be asked to contribute to a maintenance fund for the downtown rest facility at 1023 Ludington St.

The property was deeded to the City of Escanaba, which will lease the property to the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce.

Letters are being mailed to the businesses in those blocks explaining the financing program. Robert Schrader will appoint block chairmen in each block to make personal contacts for pledges to the maintenance fund.

The program was unanimously approved at a meeting of downtown businesses last Friday.

Family Of A. Pineau Sr. Holds Reunion

A lawn party at the home of Mrs. Adele Constantineau of Schaffer was the setting Sunday for the reunion of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Angus Pineau Sr. of Rapid River (Maplewood).

Six of the eight living children attended and the eldest, Mrs. Elsie Nicholson of Corvallis, Ore., also celebrated her 80th birthday on Sunday. This is the first time she had been home in 20 years. A potluck lunch was served.

Attending were: Mrs. Elsie Nicholson, Corvallis, Ore., and Mrs. Albin (Opal) Berg of Garden, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pineau and Mr. and Mrs. Angus Pineau Jr. of Rapid River, and the hostess, Mrs. Adele Constantineau.

Unable to attend were Mrs. Arthur (Lida) DeMarse of Madison, Wis., and Mrs. Tom (Ethyle) Bernier of Sacramento, Calif. Another daughter, Chlorey, died in January of this year.

Mrs. Constantineau will return to Oregon with Mrs. Nicholson on Aug. 9 for a month's visit.

Delta 4-H Fair Opens Friday

A Delta County 4-H Action Fair will be held Friday and Saturday in the 4-H Dining Hall at the U.P. State Fair Grounds. This is the first time Delta has held a county 4-H fair.

Purpose of the fair is to give every member a chance to display what they have learned in the 4-H. In the past, exhibits were selected for the State Fair by a percentage of members enrolled. This meant many members never really had a chance to display their own projects.

All 4-H projects will be on display except livestock and clothing. Livestock will be displayed at the U.P. State Fair, and clothing displayed at the County Style Show in the

This will be an excellent opportunity for parents and young people to see what is available in the 4-H program. The 4-H program is not just for rural youth," said a 4-H spokesman.

The fair is open to the general public and there will be no admission charge. The fair will be open Friday from 1-8 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — Aquinas College in Grand Rapids has instituted the post of campus ombudsman and selected Dr. Rodger A. Remington, chairman of the History Department, to fill the position. Aquinas president Dr. Norbert J. College officials said they hoped the functions of the new post would remove barriers in campus communications.

Bad Sex Novel Proves A Point

NEW YORK (AP) — Three years ago, a Long Island newspaper columnist and 24 friends set out to write a bad sex novel in an elaborate hoax to prove that a book doesn't have to be good for the American public to buy a lot of copies.

They succeeded.

"Naked Came the Stranger," written under the collective pseudonym of "Penelope Ashe," has already sold nearly 20,000 copies at $5.95 each, paperback rights have been sold and 18 movie companies are interested in the film rights.

The hoax was made public Wednesday by Mike McGrady, a stocky, cigar-smoking columnist for Newsday, who conceived the idea in the spring of 1966.

"I was really fed up with people like Harold Robbins and Jacqueline Susann," he said. "I saw the writing that was being accepted and it seemed absurd."

Outline

On June 13, 1966, he circulated copies of a four-page story outline to 100 persons, most of them editors and writers at Newsday. Twenty-four accepted the invitation, including five women and Gene Goltz, who won a Pulitzer Prize in 1965 with the Houston Post and shared in another Pulitzer last year at the Detroit Free Press.

"True excellence in writing will be blue-penciled into oblivion," McGrady warned. "There will be an unremitting emphasis on sex."

His basic story line centered on the sexual exploits of one Gillian Blake, the female half of "The Billy & Gilly Show," a radio program featuring "America's sweethearts of the air."

McGrady set the location in "King's Neck, Long Island," a steaming suburban jungle within sight of Manhattan's brightest lights, and asked each author to write one chapter, without knowing what the others were doing.

The book was written in three weeks and the 35-year-old columnist was quite pleased with the results.

Most Were Bad

"Everyone handed in a chapter and most were bad enough to merit consideration. They had to be very commercial and very sexy; the kind of writing one has come to expect of Jacqueline Susann ("Valley of the Dolls," "The Love Machine") over the years," McGrady said. "Some of the chapters were too good and had to be sent back for revisions."

Lyle Stuart of Lyle Stuart, Inc., liked the book, even before they filled him in on the hoax, and contracted to publish it.

Since they have to split up the sales money equally the authors will not get rich. They don't expect to receive more than $4,000 each.

They're also thinking of doing a sequel.

"I wanted to call it 'Son of Naked Came the Stranger,'" Aronson said, "but Mike came up with a better one: 'Stranger than Naked.'"

BABY BOOM

LONDON (AP)—The population of the United Kingdom will be 68,190,000 by the year 2000, according to a government report. This would be a rise of 23 per cent in 32 years.

MANGANESE SAMPLE — A composition that contains about 20 per cent manganese ore is being held in the lap of Professor A. K. Snelgrove of Michigan Tech University. The professor and his colleagues are currently probing the possible commercial use of a large deposit of manganese that has been found in Michigan waters off Menominee.

Tech Team Probes Ore Deposit In Bay

By BOB GREGG

An expedition lead by a Michigan Tech professor has returned to Escanaba with 20,000 pounds of manganese nodules and matrix of sand and mud taken from the bottom of Lake Michigan off Chamber's Island near Menominee.

The sampling was taken in an effort to determine whether or not the manganese deposits on the bottom of Green Bay discovered and reported last year by both University of Michigan and University of Wisconsin researchers have commercial value.

Reports to date on the deposits have been conflicting, he indicated.

"The deposits were found to be in shallow water, less than 100 feet deep, and are within easy shipping distance of the Escanaba ore docks," said A. K. Snelgrove, Michigan Tech professor working in conjunction with a grant from the National Science Foundation in Washington.

Snelgrove said that the large amount of manganese composition was lifted off the lake bottom by a barge owned by the Gallagher Marine Co. of Escanaba. "We took advantage of the barge when it was down at Menominee for the raising of the mystery ship," Snelgrove explained.

Worth $17 Million

"If it could be mined the manganese resource we're talking about is worth an estimated $17 million," Snelgrove said.

Manganese is a hard gray metal touched with specks of red, and has the property of making iron and copper exceptionally stronger when used as an alloy. In small amounts it is said to be indispensable in making better steel because it removes oxygen and sulphur during

Got Help

The professor had a lot of help in his research adventure. "Marinette Marine and Gallagher Marine really made it possible for us to get our 20,000 pounds of sample deposit off the bottom of the lake," he said.

Snelgrove explained that the biggest manganese deposit is entirely in Michigan waters.

Snelgrove said that the large sample of ore will be taken to Michigan Tech where metallurgical research will be carried out as to whether manganese can be made into pellets much like iron ore.

He explained the process that must be developed in order for the manganese to be used commercially.

"First of all, we must remove the sand, mud and clay. Then we must separate the manganese from the trace amounts of copper and nickel that are found with the manganese. Only then will it be possible to make manganese pellets for commercial use."

U.S. Needs Manganese

Professor Snelgrove explained that the United States is in short supply of manganese and imports most of it from foreign sources. "This new-found deposit could possibly give us a home-grown source of this valuable ore," he said.

Snelgrove said that the recovery of these vast deposits are very complicated because of possible pollution and conservation (fish and shoreline) losses.

"If we do find it feasible to mine the ore then we must set up pellet mills much like the iron pellet mills already in use in the Upper Peninsula," Snelgrove added.

Sale Of C&NW Is Mentioned

The Wall Street Journal reported today that Northwest Industries, Inc., "apparently is interested in selling Chicago & North Western Railway, the base from which the diversified holding company began its operations about a year ago" to the Milwaukee Road.

In a story from Chicago, a Wall Street Journal reporter said the possibility of the sale was raised by Ben Heineman, Northwest president, within the past month in conversations with Curtiss E. Crippen, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific Railroad.

"The discussions were disclosed by Mr. Crippen in an interim report to shareholders of the Milwaukee Road," the reporter wrote.

Approval of a merger between the C&NW and the Milwaukee Road was recommended by an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner last December, but the Journal reported that neither the C&NW or Milwaukee Road is receptive to conditions laid down by the ICC to complete the transaction.

Crippen told the Journal that the possibility that the merger can't be worked out "is of concern to both of us. Both of us have agreed that the merger should go through, but under the circumstances we have to consider what the alternatives will be."

Heineman had no comment when contacted by the reporter.

"Crippen estimated that the (final) decision on the merger by the full ICC won't come until late this year, or early 1970," the newspaper said. "A decision on any purchase of the North Western wouldn't be made until after that time."

Highway Dept. To Sell Land

LANSING — Forty-seven parcels of excess Department of State Highways land in 11 Upper Peninsula counties will be offered for sale Aug. 19 at two public auctions in Escanaba.

The auctions will be in the State Office Building, 305 Ludington St. The first, at 10 a.m., will be for 19 parcels in Chippewa, Delta, Mackinac and Schoolcraft counties. The second, at 2 p.m., will be for 28 parcels in Dickinson, Gogebic, Houghton, Iron, Marquette, Menominee and Ontonagon counties.

Printed notices of the parcels in Dickinson, Gogebic, Houghton, Iron, Marquette, Menominee and Ontonagon counties may be obtained from Peter Petroff, office manager in the department's Crystal Falls District office, 336 Superior Ave., Crystal Falls.

Farm Index Up

LANSING (AP) — The index of prices received by Michigan farmers as of mid-July was 227 per cent of the 1910-14 average, up two points from mid-June. The State Crop Reporting Service said price rises in eggs, milk and hogs primarily were responsible for the increase.

QUESTION:

I have heard that air pollution has an affect on metals. Could that be true?

ANSWER:

To quote a recent visitor from Muskegon, he claims the TV tuners, which are composed mainly of non-ferrous metals, are a constant problem in the area due to the emissions from the kraft sulphate mill.

Sylvania Logging

The nearly 19,000 acres of land and water that comprise the Sylvania Recreation Area in Gogebic County were purchased by the federal government in 1965 and have been managed by the U. S. Forest Service since then.

Lying within the Ottawa National Forest, the Sylvania Tract has been utilized extensively by recreation seekers — campers, fishermen, picnickers, hunters, snowmobilers, sightseers — even since it became public land. Researchers also have used the tract for various scientific studies. And now a portion of Sylvania is to be logged.

The Forest Service recently announced that Kimberly Clark Corp. was the successful bidder on the first timber sale in Sylvania. Kimberly Clark will cut 542,000 board feet of timber, predominately high value sugar maple and yellow birch, along with hardwood and hemlock pulpwood.

To some, this may sound like heresy. How does it happen, they may ask, that a federal agency charged with managing a prime outdoor recreation area would permit commercial logging within that area?

The answer is that the Forest Service has practiced the multiple use concept on its lands ever since the days of Gifford Pinchot. And multiple use means utilization of the land not only for recreation or for logging, but for both and for any other purpose compatible with the land.

But is logging compatible with recreation? In the case of Sylvania, it certainly is.

The Forest Service has pointed out from the beginning that it is convinced that Sylvania is indeed unique and that efforts should be made to maintain its unusual qualities. At the same time, it was clearly understood by the Forest Service — if not by some segments of the public — that Sylvania was not a wilderness to be set aside with all other legitimate uses precluded.

Although much of Sylvania is in virgin timber, other areas within the tract were logged in the pioneer days. Lodges, roads and other facilities had been built within the interior of the tract.

The Forest Service wisely decided to manage Sylvania as a public use area rather than a wilderness area, but to take proper precautions to preserve the area's soils and waters, its botanical treasures and even some of its fish stocks. Public tax dollars paid for Sylvania, and the citizens were entitled to make as much use of the area as possible within the framework of sound conservation practices.

Toward this end, a great deal of study went into drafting a management plan for Sylvania. It set up four zones to provide proper use, protection, enjoyment and achievement of the management goals. They are a pioneer zone, where natural beauty is emphasized; a botanical zone, where ecological communities of botanical significance are given the greatest protection; a water and travel influence zone, which includes the natural routes through the area and will be the part of Sylvania most seen by visitors, and a general forest zone, which includes all of the area not contained in the other zones and comprises about one-fourth the total area of the tract.

The timber sale is located within the general forest zone. Special logging restrictions will be imposed to minimize the impact of cutting on the environment. No permanent roads will be constructed.

Instead of spoiling the portion of Sylvania for recreation, logging actually will enhance it. Selective removal of some trees will provide openings beneficial to deer and ruffed grouse, the two principal hunting species in Sylvania.

In addition, logging will provide employment to help a depressed local economy and will contribute to a nation-wide demand for forest products that is becoming critical. It also will help atone for some of the tax base that was lost when Sylvania became public land.

Acquiring a collection of antique vehicles and other equipment is the unique hobby of Richard Miller of Vulcan. His possessions include a 1916 GMC road sprinkler, a 1920 CleTrac tractor, a 1945 Sherman tank, an amphibious jeep, a 1939 Piper Cub airplane and a 1930 American LaFrance fire truck. He also has 15 antique automobiles, among them a 1918 Cadillac touring car. Miller who is employed at Inger-Teco Corp., Norway, started the collection because of a desire to restore and repair this old equipment as a hobby.

Reed Helping Nixon Fill Washington Staff

BY JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

One of the more persistent political myths is that President Richard Nixon nurses a grudge against California's Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The myth doesn't consort with Nixon's cool-cat character; when it comes to helping the Republican Party, and incidentally strengthening his own Washington Administration, the President is quite capable of putting personal feelings aside.

Reed's particular concern is to devise a system that will guarantee the choice of good men who are not personally obnoxious to members of Congress or the State Republican organizations back home.

Nixon obviously doesn't want a lot of minor "Knowles flaps" all over the place. This means that Reed must find a few key men in each of the 50 states who are capable of giving good advice on personnel qualifications both from the standpoint of ability and compatibility with Republican ambitions to advance the party's cause in the 1970 Congressional elections.

This is more or less proved by the presence of Tom Reed, the youngest member of the Republican National Committee, in Washington as an assistant to South Carolina's Harry Dent, the White House "political" man. Reed is from California, where he is closely identified with the political interests of Reagan.

The interesting thing is that his White House appointment, insofar as it entails working in Washington on a full-time basis, is for a limited term only. When Reed has completed his job (which should be by September at the latest) he will return to California, where he will pick up where he left off as a part-time adviser to the Reagan regime on appointments and on political tactics and strategy in general.

Nixon wanted Reed in Washington because of his demonstrated expertise in staffing an Administration in a way that combines competence and political loyalty. For 100 days after Reagan assumed office in the California State House Reed put in full-time service as the Reagan appointments man. He did a remarkably effective job, incidentally producing an era of good feeling between Reagan and Lt. Gov. Bob Finch. Then, having completed the job, he returned to his various business interests, which include the Quaker Hill Development Co. and the Quaker Hill Technological Co.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Thomas Irvine, state chairman of the league water resources study item, and represents the opinion of some 4,600 league members throughout the State of Michigan.

Such restrictive use should be carefully supervised and issued on a needs basis for health or

The League of Women Voters of Michigan is calling for the restrictive use of DDT and other persistent pesticides until such time as the scientific question of their effect on water quality has been conclusively resolved.

Final contract—seven spades.
Opening lead—king of diamonds.

Dear Mr. Becker: It is not easy to explain how I became declarer at seven spades with the South hand, and for that reason I am deliberately omitting the bidding.

The fact is that I never played this hand in real life, but, just the same, I have played it many, many times. You see, I keep on dreaming about this deal all the time and I never fail to make the hand, even though West sometimes leads a heart, sometimes a diamond, and occasionally a club.

But regardless of how the defense goes, I always make the grand slam. Usually, West leads a diamond. I win with the ace and lead the king of clubs. East generally covers with the ace and I trump with the deuce. (If East ducks, as he sometimes does, I fire the queen through him to achieve the same result.)

Then I play heart to the ace and discard three hearts and a diamond on the Q-9-8-7 of clubs. Next I trump a heart, then a diamond (with the queen of spades), trump another heart, then another diamond (with the king of spades).

By this time I have only the A-10 of spades in my hand, and when I lead either a club or a heart from dummy, I make the last two tricks by force.

East always tries to interfere with the crosscut by trumping indiscriminately with his spades, but I overruff each time with the cheapest trump, and he has never beaten me yet.

Ursula Crazy-Nuts Over Married Guy

Dear Ann Landers: My daughter, Ursula, is 33-years-old and crazy-nuts over a married man. He is not living with his wife but he has told Ursula in my presence that he will never get a divorce. She is not a stupid girl. She graduated from Radcliffe sum laude and holds an executive position. But when it comes to this man she is an idiot. If he splits her and told her she was raining she would believe it.

He has insulted Ursula, stood her up on dates, belittled her in front of her family, done everything but punch her in the mouth. It would not surprise me if he did that next. He yo-yos her around, tells her to get out of his life and stay out, and the next day when he invites her to dinner she is the happiest girl in town.

Ursula fluctuates from the depth of despair to complete ecstasy, depending on what this lunatic says to her. Is it possible that he is driving her crazy?—Plain Jane

Dear Jane: No. Not until you've heard about the Hogg sisters of Texas. One is named Ima and the other is Ura. The family is affluent and prominent and their names appear in print frequently. Do you want to reconsider?

YOUNG WRITERS HELPED

NEW YORK (AP) — Three young playwrights have been granted cash awards by the American National Theatre and Academy (ANTA). The ANTA-Bishop Awards in Playwriting, honoring the late Robert Hamilton Bishop III, were given to Ransom Jeffrey ($2,000) for his play, "The Guest," Frank M. Mosier ($700) for "The Duchess of Santiago," and Richard Cook ($300) for his play, "Charlie Boy."

The awards were open to a promising American playwright who had not yet had a play produced for profit and who submitted a play which had not been previously produced.

Milliken Signs BillsCities May Levy Tax For Garbage Removal

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken signed a number of bills into law Wednesday, including one creating a common pleas court system in cities with a population of more than 25,000.

The governor termed the bill, effective Jan. 1, "good legislation designed to streamline and expedite the judicial process."

Among other bills signed by the governor were ones to:

—Amend the Municipal Civil Service Act to allow a commission to fill vacancies above the rank of fireman and policeman with persons with only three years experience if there are more vacancies than persons with 5 years experience.

—Provide for less complicated system of correcting errors that may occur in marriage licenses and certificates.

—Enable public health nurses to give immunization treatment under the direction of licensed physicians but without necessity of a physician actually being present.

Organ-Transplant
—Enable state medical societies to receive confidential patient information for the purpose of study and evaluation of quality of care in advancing medical research and/or medical evaluation.

—Reduce legal problems raised by organ-transplants and meet the need for a uniform anatomical gift act throughout the United States.

—Amend the law to enable cities and villages to levy a tax for collecting and disposing of refuse and garbage.

—Enable counties to share costs of operation of their local health departments on a formula combining population and equalized valuation factors.

—Provide for payment to accredited, non-public schools of dentistry, located within the state, of $2,400 for each doctor of dental surgery degree or doctor of dental medicine degree earned by a Michigan resident. During the 1969-70 fiscal year $150,000 would be appropriated as a result of this bill for payment to the University of Detroit.

Glue Sniffing
—Amend the public utilities regulation act to delete jurisdiction of the public service commission over gas utility safety.

—Provide that the warden, his deputy or a duly appointed representative of the warden shall always be "in attendance" at the state's prisons and at no time can all of them be absent from the institution.

—Provide that vacancies on the State Board of sanitation shall be filled by the governor.

—Provide that for the extension of the "glue sniffing" statute to include all chemical agents containing toxic chemicals or organic solvents or both, having the property of releasing toxic vapors.

—Provide that residents of Michigan may purchase rifles in any contiguous state if the sale complies with the federal Gun Control Act of 1968 and the laws of the contiguous state and that residents of contiguous states may purchase rifles in Michigan if they conform to the federal laws and laws of their own state.

Gun Sale

—Provide that the sale by any person of a gun less than 30 inches in length to a person under 18 years of age is a misdemeanor.

—Provide for the extension to 10 miles as the distance beyond the city limits in which a city bus system can operate without coming under the provisions of the Motor Carrier Act.

—Provide an earlier opening date for raccoon hunting.

—Amend the use tax statute to exempt from the use tax any item subject to a sales or use

Ferrous Frolics Set At Caspian This Weekend

CASPAN — The first "Ferrous Frolics" sponsored by civic organizations at Caspian to raise money for a building needed for expansion of the Iron County Historical Museum at Caspian will be held Saturday and Sunday.

The Museum grounds will be the site of two events that will begin at noon both days. There is the Flea Market, where antiques and other items will be put up for sale, and the Art Show, under the direction of the Smears and Spatters Art Club, where artists from throughout the Peninsula can show their works for possible sales.

Other activities are a Dunkin' Booth sponsored by the Jaycees and bratwurst and beer meals served by the Caspian Progressive Men. Bocce Tournaments, an Italian form of bowling, will also be conducted by the Progressive Men.

For the younger set there is a Kiddie Parade, 6:30 p.m. Saturday, in downtown Caspian with prizes being awarded, and a Youth Dance at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in the Caspian City Hall Auditorium with music by the Outer Edge.

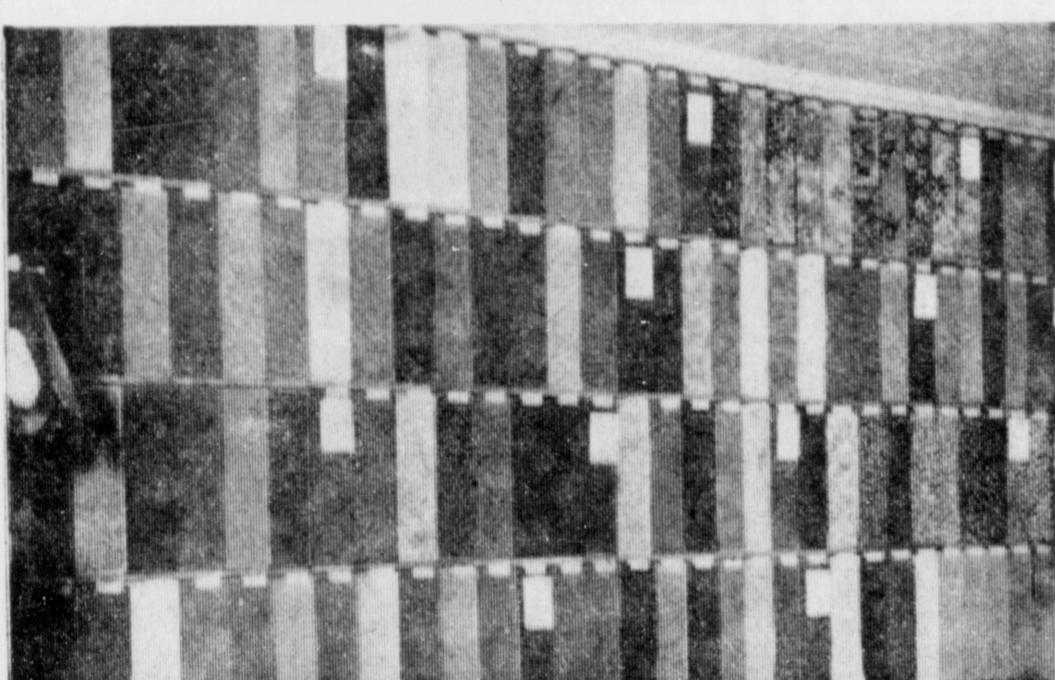

Sunday's events are a 2 p.m. Canoe Race on a portion of the Iron River and a 3 p.m. concert presented by the Iron County Band.

—Require the licensing of dogs over six months of age, increase kennel fees, and changes the law on vaccination.

—Amend the Fire and Police Department Pension Enabling Act to allow policemen or firemen who are discharged for disciplinary reasons after they have served sufficient time to be eligible for a pension to receive the pension or benefit as a vested right.

Fair Opens Tuesday For 6 Exciting Days

All roads will lead to Escanaba and the U. P. State Fair next week, with the exposition opening on Tuesday and continuing for six big days and nights.

There's fun planned for everyone and the grandstand is free both afternoon and evening for the first four days; with a charge for the special attractions offered on Saturday and Sunday.

Fund OK'd By County Board

County Treasurer Myrtle Ottensman met with the county board of supervisors Wednesday afternoon to give them statistics on certain county funds that were available for possible use in Delta County's 1969 Highway Improvement Fund.

Supervisor Stanley Dominic of Ensign moved that three District Court resources be kept in the general fund. The rest of the board was in total agreement.

This year's highway improvement fund will be made up from the following resources: stamp revenues on real estate transactions, non-business and business license fees and permits, certificates of deposit, rentals, transporting prisoners, Circuit Court services, Friend of the Court services, Probate Court fees, treasurer fees, clerk service fees, Register of Deeds fees, sheriff's service fees, tax department fees, and civil defense service fees.

The Highway Improvement Fund is used locally in Delta County to improve primary and secondary county roads.

Mrs. A. Plant Dies Wednesday

Mrs. Augusta Plant of Detroit died Wednesday at the Martin Place East Hospital.

Mrs. Plant is a former resident of Escanaba and has been making her home with her son Arch in Detroit since the death of her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Girard. She was a member of St. Joseph's Church.

Allo Funeral Home is in charge of funeral arrangements which will be announced later. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Cliff Perras, Fair manager, noted the variety of attractions — country western shows, horse pulling, fireworks, stock car racing, junior combo, square dancing youth activities — and the biggest horse show in the history of the fair.

There is a $1 gate with children under 14 admitted free. Parking is free on the grounds.

Here's the way the six-day program's highlights line up:

Tuesday, Safety Patrol Day

Hundreds of school safety patrol boys and girls will be guests of the Fair on the grounds, and will enjoy an afternoon picnic. Fiddlin' Farmer, Jo Jo the clown, and other specialties are scheduled. Judging begins in their work that day.

Wednesday, Queen's Day

Afternoon and evening grandstand shows feature the U. P. Fair Queen contest, plus the battle of the Combo bands. The new queen will be crowned in the evening — but not by 1968 Queen Nancy Wendum of Rock, who is on a student-stay in Spain this summer. The beefsteak sale is set for 8 p.m. at the barns.

Thursday, Youth and Senior Day — LeRoy Van Dyke and his show will be featured free (of course) afternoon and evening; and the all-day attraction on the grounds will include the highly competitive junior horse, dairy and beef judging and the antics of clowns Quacky, Fiddlin' Farmer and Jo Jo.

Friday, Governor's Day — Gov. William Milliken will arrive on the grounds in the early afternoon for an appearance at the 2 p.m. grandstand show and a tour of the grounds. His schedule will not permit a noon luncheon this year. Sonny James, Connie Smith and other country and western stars are on the afternoon and evening shows.

Saturday, Farmers' Day — The horse pulling contest is free and features the grandstand show at 2 p.m. At 8 p.m. there's stock car racing and a pulled the trailer to Salinas, and abandoned it there. The trailer has been impounded at Salinas by police, who are investigating two murders in the area, one of which is said to resemble some of the Michigan slayings.

Manuel, who was arrested at the home of his sister-in-law in Phoenix, will be questioned about the killings and a possible theft ring, police said. Numerous stolen items—including identification papers, motorcycles and at least one gun—were found in the house where Collins and Manuel rented rooms in Ypsilanti.

Manuel's sister-in-law, Ernestina Masters, said Manuel had been in Phoenix since the weekend. Mrs. Masters said Manuel told her he had known Collins for six months.

"He was scared and was afraid he would be sent to jail for something he didn't do," Mrs. Masters said.

Michigan authorities planned to go to Arizona today to question Manuel.

In Salinas Wednesday, Monterey County Sheriff's Capt. Darol V. Smith said Collins' fingerprints had been found in the trailer discovered last Friday behind the home of Manuel's grandfather.

Sheriff's Sgt. Tom Shepherd and Robert Taylor, a Monterey County district attorney's investigator, flew to Arizona to question Manuel in connection with the slaying of Miss Phillips.

Nancy Albrecht, 17, of Fort Worth, Tex., told police earlier this week she had met Collins on a Salinas street June 29. She said he did not show up for a date the next day, the day Miss Phillips, her friend, was reported missing.

Detroit Dean

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. John Mahoney has been appointed dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Detroit, announced the Rev. James V. McGlynn, vice-president of academic affairs for the university. Mahoney had been chairman of the English faculty.

Its effect would be to legalize freedom-of-choice desegregation plans, which the courts have ruled unacceptable unless they speed integration.

If enacted into law, the amendment would limit the government's most powerful weapon against school discrimination: the cutoff of aid funds to school districts that refuse to desegregate.

Sources within the government and on Capitol Hill say Robert H. Finch, secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was ready to take a strong public stand against the Whitten amendment on the eve of the House vote last week.

The new issue is an amendment sponsored by Rep. Jamie

Whitten, D-Miss., and strongly supported by southerners in Congress. It would stop the government from assisting the school districts in the busing of pupils, closing of buildings, or assignment of students against parental wishes to achieve desegregation.

Shaping up as a civil rights test perhaps as crucial for the Nixon administration as the recent controversy over revised school desegregation guidelines. Civil rights leaders have criticized the President's new emphasis on court-ordered plans as a step backward from strong anti-discrimination enforcement.

139 Americans Killed In War

SAIGON — (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today that 139 Americans were killed in Vietnam last week, roughly a 25 per cent increase over two weeks ago when the death toll fell to a low mark of 110.

It marked the fifth straight week that American battlefield deaths were below the 200 mark and the 12th consecutive week that South Vietnamese battlefield deaths exceeded those of U.S. forces.

The weekly casualty figures reflected the lull in sustained ground fighting now in its eighth week, a cutback in large-scale U.S. operations and a gradual shifting of more fighting to South Vietnamese forces.

South Vietnamese battlefield deaths last week were reported as 276 troops killed, 14 fewer than were killed the previous week.

Allied headquarters said in its weekly casualty summary that 2,025 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers were killed during the seven-day period ending at midnight last Saturday. This compared to 2,079 enemy claimed killed two weeks ago.

The U.S. Command said 1,110 Americans were wounded in the period, 54 more than two weeks ago.

Mrs. D. Wright, Former Resident Dies In Florida

Mrs. David Wright Sr., the former Edith Huggitt, died Tuesday evening in Barton, Fla. Mrs. Wright was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Huggitt of Escanaba.

While in Escanaba Mrs. Wright was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and also served as past Regent of the DAR for the state of Florida.

She is survived by one sister, Miss Ann Huggitt of Oberlin, Ohio; two sons, Huggitt of Barton, Fla. and David of Eagle Lake, Fla., and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted in Barton, Fla. with burial also in that city.

new effort to scrutinize the government's military spending.

"This new determination marks a victory for our system of government that may well be remembered long after the ABM debate is forgotten," said Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill.

"I believe that this is but the beginning of a continuing exercise of its constitutional responsibility by the Senate with respect to the arms race," commented Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.

Denounced

As a result, much of the day was spent in fashioning a proposal acceptable to Mrs. Smith and to the Cooper-Hart forces. This was done, just about the time the Senate was rejecting a more sweeping anti-ABM amendment by Mrs. Smith—89 to 11.

But Mrs. Smith's second try at amending the bill was roundly denounced by Safeguard advocates.

After the amendments failed Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C. hailed the action, along with a House vote Tuesday for $2.5 million in other ABM funds, as "among the wisest military judgments ever reached by the Congress."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., one of the leaders of the pro-Safeguard forces, expressed hope that the nation would unite now in support of Nixon's efforts in forthcoming arms limitation talks with the Soviet Union.

"There is a chance by this vote that the Russians will talk now about limiting their ABMs," Jackson told reporters.

Briefly Told

Marianne Sacha Bride Of Thomas R. Anderson

Marianne Sacha of St. Joseph, Mich. and Thomas R. Anderson of Escanaba, Mich. exchanged wedding vows Saturday, July 26 during a ceremony performed at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Escanaba. The Rev. Harold Zink officiated at the nuptials.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Steve Sacha, 5060 Washington Ave., St. Joseph, Mich. and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Anderson, 916 Sheridan Road.

Organza, Lace

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of English organza and Venise lace in a shirtwaist style fashioned with a high neckline, long sheer sleeves and a detachable chapel train.

A face framing crown of overlapping appliques of alencon lace leaves secured her illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white daisies with stephanotis and ivy.

Maid of honor was Jean Sacha of St. Joseph, sister of the bride and bridesmaid was Karen Anderson, sister of the bridegroom.

Satin Trim

They wore chiffon gowns with satin trim and carried bouquets of white daisies.

Serving as bestman was Gary Carlson of Milwaukee, formerly of Escanaba and groomsman was Stanley Sacha of Alexandria, Va., brother of the bride.

Seating the guests were Thomas Dolezal of Toledo, Ohio and John Kubik of Hudson, Iowa.

Daisy Corsages

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sacha chose a green and beige sheath dress with matching accessories and Mrs. Anderson wore a turquoise shantung coat and dress ensemble with matching accessories. Both mothers were presented white daisy corsages.

The reception for 150 guests was held at the American Legion Hall at Stevensville, Mich.

The couple will reside at 321 Jackson Ct., Marquette, Mich.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Lake Shore High School, St.

Eileen St. Peter Taken By Death

Mrs. Arnold St. Peter, 44, of West Allis, Wis., died early this morning in West Allis. She was born Eileen Gross on Nov. 1, 1924 in Gladstone. She graduated from Gladstone High School.

She is survived by her husband; son, Lance Cpl. Timothy St. Peter of the U.S. Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton, Calif.; mother, Mertle Gross of Gladstone; brothers, Kenneth of Milwaukee, Harold of Neptune, N.J.

Friends may call at the Skradski Funeral Home after 4 p.m. Friday. Parish prayers will be said at 8 p.m.

Complete funeral services will be held at All Saint's Church at 9 a.m. Saturday with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Matt LaViolette officiating. Burial will be in the Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Expect Delay In Bribery Case

LANSING (AP) — Preliminary examination was expected to be recessed today until a later date in the case of a former State Highway Department employee charged with several counts of bribery.

The defendant is John Miller of Lansing, charged as a result of a one-man grand jury investigation conducted by Ingham County Circuit Judge Marvin J. Salmon.

"There is still legal wrangling over number of exhibits such as checks, records of the highway department, records of the department of administration and concerning the sale of property," said Leo Farhat, former special prosecutor for the one-man grand jury and now an assistant Ingham County prosecutor.

Farhat said the preliminary examination by Circuit Judge Walter VanDeWeghe, secretary of the Board of Education.

Seven Counties Will Have 60% of State's Population

DETROIT (AP) — By 1990

sixty per cent of the state's population will live in seven southeastern Michigan counties.

They will be richer than they are now, take more trips, commute farther to work, and be more likely to hold a white collar job.

These findings were part of the preliminary study prepared by the Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study (TALUS) and released Tuesday.

The four-year long study was preceded by intensive data collection and analysis, bringing out a wide range of projections of what things will be like in the seven-county area a little over two decades from now.

The population will increase from the 4.4 million it was in 1965 to 6.9 million in 1990. The 56 per cent increase in population will be more than matched by a 66 per cent increase in jobs.

However, the job increase will be weighted heavily toward the white collar section of the economy. Blue collar jobs are expected to increase by only 26 per cent, compared with 106 per cent for white collar work.

A million new homes, cost $2 billion at 1965 prices, will be needed by 1990, with one-half of the 4,500 square miles in the area urbanized, compared to only about one-sixth now, the study said.

The forecasts were worked out with the use of demographic and other statistical information by computers in Michigan and Minnesota, using data ranging from as far back as 1953.

Brampton OKs Millage Levy

Brampton Township approved a 2 1/2 mill tax in a special election held Tuesday. Sixty-eight ballots were cast and the increased millage was approved in a 38 to 30 vote.

The additional millage was necessary to meet full state aid requirements and for operating expenses according to Walter VanDeWeghe, secretary of the Board of Education.

Fort Drummond's Restoration Stymied

DRUMMOND ISLAND (AP) — Hopes for restoration of old Ft. Drummond have been stymied by a property owner's refusal to sell the site.

Mrs. Marie Gunther of Cleveland, Ohio, a summer resident on the island and owner of the 67-acre site where the fort stood, told a Drummond Township meeting this week she wouldn't sell.

Artist Works With Computer

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va. (AP) — Most artists use brushes or knives or chisels. But for 26-year-old Lloyd Sumner, his palette is a computer.

Sumner pioneered in computer art while earning a degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, his home base.

The artist worked his way through college by taking a part-time job at the university's computer center, where he soon learned there is nearly a infinite variety of computer programs that can be translated in graphic form by a plotter.

Sumner now makes a living by selling his ink line drawings in art galleries in several cities.

Sumner's technique consists of first sketching several ideas. Selecting a particular favorite, he then determines the proper mathematical formulae that will represent the elements of his final sketch. These are programmed into computer language, punched onto cards and read into Burroughs computer housed at the university.

The computer in turn translates its instructions into directions—a plot tape—for a plotting device to follow in executing the drawing.

"The computer is my tool to produce a drawing too delicate, too intricate for my hand alone," Sumner explains.

The additional millage was necessary to meet full state aid requirements and for operating expenses according to Walter VanDeWeghe, secretary of the Board of Education.

The reason: She likes her fort property into 16 lots for sale to prospective summer resorters as home sites, but offered to give the township 20-foot masonry fireplace chimney built in 1815 by British troops.

She said, however, it would be moved and assembled elsewhere.

The chimney draws numerous souvenir hunters. Once, Mrs. Gunther said, she had to call State Police to drive off a couple who insisted the site was public property and kept digging for artifacts.

Invaded Site

Since coming to the island in mid-June for her usual summer stay, Mrs. Gunther said strangers had invaded the fort site, and even her front yard, on numerous occasions under the impression it was public property.

Bandits Burn Model Home

DETROIT (AP) — "Oh my God, it was so hot. I couldn't think what to do," moaned Loyd Austin of Detroit.

It was the fire that destroyed his well-kept home that Austin could not take. He and his wife, Barbara, had spent thousands of dollars and years of work making the English Tudor home one of the most stylish in their West Side neighborhood.

Worse, the fire was set, deliberately and methodically, by three bandits who bluffed their way into Austin's home early Wednesday morning.

The computer in turn translates its instructions into directions—a plot tape—for a plotting device to follow in executing the drawing.

One of the bandits, posing as a special delivery man, rang the doorbell to rouse Austin and then the three of them forced their way in. Austin was tied up and the three then proceeded to ransack the house.

Then they set fire to five of the rooms, peeling the paint, covering everything with soot and charring much of the furniture.

After hearing the men drive away in his car, he managed to free himself. He put out a fire on his living room sofa, and started upstairs to fight the fire there, but smoke and flames pushed him back.

Mrs. Austin, an inspector at the Ford Motor Co., was out of town and did not return till later Wednesday.

When she saw the damage, she ran her hand through her hair and shook her head.

"How do you value a thing you work your whole life for?" she asked.

Black Coalition Idles Projects

CHICAGO (AP) — A coalition of black organizations demanding admission of 10,000 Negroes to building trades unions has forced the shutdown in the last two weeks of more than $85 million worth of Chicago construction projects.

More than 1,200 construction workers on 23 projects on the South Side have been idled by demonstrations sponsored by the Coalition for United Community Action, an organization representing 61 neighborhood groups.

A spokesman for the coalition said the Chicago Building Trades Council and contractors "are going to include us in the building unions or they're not going to build in our community."

The builders' association contends that half the idled workers are black. All the affected projects are in Negro areas.

Thomas J. Murray, council president, said, "There isn't room for 10,000 trainees in the jurisdiction of the Chicago Building Trades Council. Employers can't take that many—we'd have to go to the government for help."

Mr. DeKeyser, Mrs. Ben Lippens, Mrs. Clifford Carlson and Mrs. John Pelton traveled to Chicago last weekend. Mrs. DeKeyser visited her sister, Ann Andruski, and the other ladies visited with their daughters, Carol Lippens, Vicki Carlson and Jeanne Rajala. All are employed in Chicago.

Revise Food Price Outlook

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department, in a revised food outlook report, forecasts over-all prices will be about 4 per cent higher this year. But it says the "crest of the tide of inflation may be at hand."

The department recalled Wednesday that total food spending dropped slightly between the first two quarters of this year. It said consumers saw the likelihood of more spending in the final six months unless "consumer resistance spreads" and apparently began "switching to lower priced foods."

The agency expects Americans to pay out a record low of around 16.5 per cent of their disposable income for food this year. This is based on total food expenditures of around $104 billion.

Mental Tests For Kidnaper

WHITE CLOUD (AP) — Leonard Hugall, an 18-year-old Fremont youth accused of kidnapping a 12-year-old Fremont girl, is to undergo mental examination to determine if he is capable of assisting his defense in court.

Circuit Judge Harold Van Domelen ordered Hugall, a former mental patient, committed to the State Mental Health Department Wednesday "for diagnostic evaluation not to exceed 60 days."

The Newaygo County jurist acted on the request of Hugall's attorney, Paul Greer of Fremont, for "a diagnostic evaluation."

Cindy Haywood disappeared in Fremont July 19 and was found unharmed at Marquette July 23 in the company of Hugall, whom she accused of forcing her to accompany him.

Ingham County Prosecutor Raymond L. Scodeller also issued warrants charging breaking and entering with intent to commit rape and another charge of breaking and entering against John J. Inosencio of Lansing.

East Lansing Police said the victim lived alone in her town house apartment. She had left the apartment door open so a pet cat out prowling at night could enter, police said.

Police said the woman was savagely beaten, then raped around 4 a.m. Wednesday morning. Police picked up the suspect a few blocks away minutes later. Police were in the neighborhood because another break-in had been reported nearby.

The woman was reported in fair condition at Sparrow Hospital in Lansing. Police said she had been brutally pummelled and suffered severe head and neck injuries.

Inosencio waived preliminary examination before East Lansing Municipal Judge John Maire Wednesday. He was held for circuit court arraignment Friday after he failed to post $10,000 bond.

Area Nines Open Class D Softball Tourney Tonight

The first of two Upper Peninsula softball tournaments scheduled for Escanaba — the Class D event — gets underway with a pair of games at Memorial Field tonight.

In the opener at 7 o'clock, the Negaunee Merchants tangle with Ensign, Perronville, winner of the recent Class D district tourney in Escanaba, will face Moose-Blatz of Munising at 8:30.

Fourteen teams are entered in the double-elimination tournament which will continue through Sunday.

Two games are scheduled Friday night and 16 more Saturday. Games in the winner's bracket Saturday will be played at Memorial Field with the loser's bracket teams moving to Royce Park.

Finals of the tournament are set for 7 p.m. Sunday at Memorial Field.

Besides Perronville and Ensign, Escanaba area teams entered are Bark River and Four Corners. The Marquette district will send Pat's Bar of Marquette, Suomi Sauna of Marquette and Hill's Garage of Negaunee.

Three teams are entered from the Iron Mountain district and one each from Houghton and Sault Ste. Marie.

The Upper Peninsula Class A tournament will be played in Escanaba Saturday and Sunday, August 16-17, with the Merchants representing Escanaba in a six-team field.

The Class B tourney is scheduled Aug. 14-17 at Negaunee with Flat Rock representing Escanaba and the Class C event is at Marquette Aug. 13-17 with Jolly Roger, winner of the recent Class C district in Escanaba, Trenary and Escanaba Paper Co. entered.

Flat Rock will open Class B play at 9:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 14, against Marquette No. 4 entry. In Class C, Jolly Roger faces Marquette No. 3 at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 13, and Trenary opens against Iron Mountain No. 1 at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 14. Escanaba Paper Co. drew a bye in the first round and will play the winner of a game matching Marquette and Houghton teams at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 15.

Bud Kennedy, Escanaba softball commissioner, announced that teams wishing to pickup two players from their district for the Upper Peninsula tournament must give him notification so changes can be posted on team rosters.

Rumors are starting to spread. They say the coho are coming. Around Thompson some early morning and late evening anglers have already begun to take coho up to five pounds and steelhead up to 10 pounds and larger.

Certain reliable local fisherman have reported to me that they have spotted what looks to be schools of possible coho porpoising off Breezy Point in Little Bay de Noc. So far these spottings have not been substantiated.

Last year the Alaskan strain of coho started to concentrate off Thompson Creek on July 27. This year's run, which will consist of the Oregon strain of coho salmon, is expected to return later than the past runs of Alaskan fish.

Last week the Department of Natural Resources dispatched a plane to look for possible schools of salmon off Thompson Creek. The observers in the aircraft spotted 12 schools of large fish, possibly coho, not far out in the lake from the mouth of the creek.

Since that time, according to fishermen, several fair-sized salmon have been caught at the mouth of the famous creek. Anglers have reported that the coho come and go fast, so fishing for them is still a hit-and-miss situation. Most of the successful anglers fish during the early morning hours.

The peak of the run is still a long time coming, but maybe if more fishermen were out casting at the mouth of Thompson Creek and trolling off Breezy Point we would get more substantial reports of the coho's movements.

The past few days have found only a few anglers working the mouth of Thompson Creek and hardly anyone at all off Breezy Point in Little Bay de Noc. According to one reliable report, eight anglers fishing Thompson Creek early Sunday morning took six steelhead up to 10 pounds, and two small coho weighing about five pounds apiece. That's pretty good fishin' no matter how you look at it.

Conservation officials so far have not seen any actual salmon, but they don't discount the sources that say they are being caught. Officials do say that even if coho are being caught now, they do not expect the major part of the run to begin until sometime in early September.

The Oregon-strain coho returning to Thompson are a result of 25,000 fish that were planted in May, 1968.

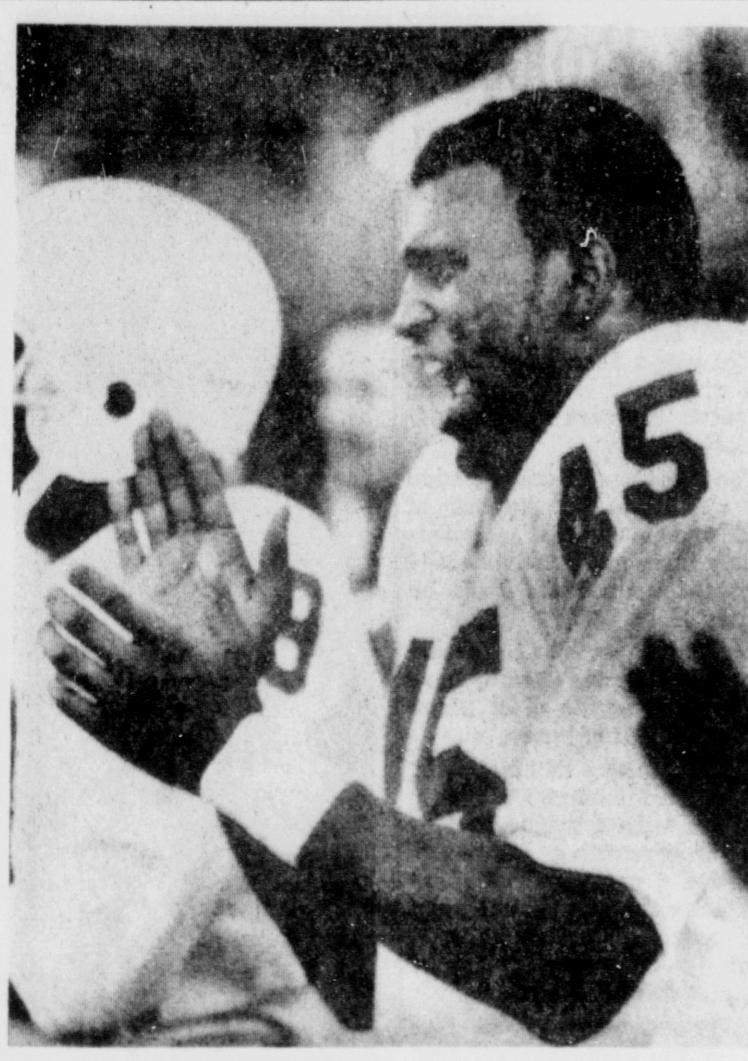

I've tried to check out the numerous reports I have been given in the past few days to make sure they're not just a bunch of fishermen's tales, but so far I'm still not sure everything I hear is true. One thing I do know. I'm going to Thompson this weekend and find out for myself.

Johnson Signs With Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ron Johnson, Star Michigan halfback and the Cleveland Browns' No. 1 draft choice, ended his holdout Wednesday by signing a two-year contract with the National Football League club.

The Browns did not disclose terms of the pact, but a spokesman did say that it was not a no-cut contract, one of the things Johnson had been demanding in sporadic negotiations since he was picked in the professional football draft six months ago.

In Chicago, Johnson's agent, attorney Arthur Morse, said the halfback accepted a $50,000 bonus and $25,000 in salary for each of the two seasons.

Morse termed the contract unsatisfactory and said he would accept no fee as the result of Johnson accepting it. He said he had advised a bigger salary and only a one-year contract with the right to negotiate for the following season.

Nowatzke Hurt In Lions Drill

BLOOMFIELD HILLS (AP) — The Detroit Lions have lost linebacker Tom Nowatzke for six weeks as a result of a fractured vertebra in his neck.

Nowatzke suffered the injury Tuesday while working out as middle linebacker during a goal line stand at the Lions' training camp at Cranbrook School near Detroit. But the injury was not diagnosed until Wednesday after Nowatzke complained of a stiff neck.

The 26-year-old Indiana graduate played some linebacking in college but has been a running back for his four seasons with the Lions. He has been working behind first team middle linebacker Mike Lucci.

Jim Perry Twists Tigers' Tail

DETROIT (AP) — Jim Perry could have been a victim of circumstance.

Instead, he's a champion, of it.

The 32-year-old righthander, who was tagged for bullpen duty before the season started, became the winningest pitcher on the Minnesota staff with a 13-4 record as he fired a masterful three-hitter and the Twins edged the Detroit Tigers 3-1 Wednesday night.

Steals Three Bases
Minnesota took a 10 lead in the first on a single and stolen base by Cesar Tovar and a double by Oliva.

The Twins scored another run when Leo Cardenas singled in the second inning, Rick Renick was hit by a pitch, Tom Tischinski walked, and Perry hit into a run-scoring double play.

Tovar, who stole three bases to up his season total to 29, led off the seventh with a single and took second on a sacrifice fly by Rod Carew. He then stole third and scored on a sacrifice fly by Oliva.

The Orioles used a two-run pinch homer by Curt Motton in the eighth inning to beat Kansas City 2-1 and increase their lead to a fat 15 games over Detroit.

The Tigers were beaten 3-1 by Minnesota and the Twins stayed three games up on Oakland which rallied to knock off Cleveland 6-4 in 11 innings.

In other games, Washington shaded Chicago 4-3, Seattle edged Boston 6-5 in 10 innings and New York topped California 3-1.

Howard Hits 36th
Howard also staged a late rally to beat Cleveland. The A's tied the game in the ninth on a sacrifice fly by pinch hitter Ted Kubiak and then won it in the 11th when right fielder Chuck Hinton dropped Jose Tartabull's fly ball for a three-base error, allowing two runs to score.

Frank Howard unloaded a two-run Homer in the eighth inning and then Paul Casanova delivered a pinch Homer in the ninth that broke a tie and got Washington past Chicago.

Howard's shot was his 36th of the season and gave the crowd of 25,520 at Milwaukee County Stadium something to talk about. It was only the second defeat for the White Sox in eight transplanted games at Milwaukee this season. Walt Williams homered for Chicago.

Cavanagh Praises Lawmakers' Work

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. William Milliken and the State Legislature won strong praise from Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh Wednesday.

"On behalf of the people of Detroit, I wish to thank the leadership and members of both parties in the Legislature as well as Gov. Milliken," the city's outgoing mayor said.

"During the current session, the Legislature has come to grips with some of the most urgent problems facing urban areas and the resulting legislation will be of great value to the city," Cavanagh said.

Cavanagh cited increases in Detroit's bonding power, changes in the income tax law, approval of a vote on the $100 million state housing program and approval of formulas for distribution of state water pollution and recreation bond money as praise-worthy legislative actions.

Astronauts' Feat Causes Medal Boom

NEW YORK (AP) — The landing of men on the moon and their return to earth has inspired a near record spurt of activity here and abroad by makers of bronze, silver and platinum commemorative medals.

Many of the medals are, as one coin dealer stated, "the kind that you find in a cereal box, representing little more than an effort by opportunists to cash in on the astronauts' feat."

"It's phenomenal," said Cliff Mishler, editor of Numismatic News Weekly.

Much Activity

"There's as much activity as for any event I've ever seen," said William Louth, president of Metallic Art Co., one of the more prominent producers.

Mishler estimates that about 40 or more companies already have offered medals and that activity is perhaps even greater in Europe than in the United States. Eventually, he forecasts, "there'll be hundreds."

The demand is anticipated from collectors, speculators, connoisseurs, and ordinary people who simply want to share in and preserve a proud accomplishment of their generation. Louth's firm is producing 10,000 serially numbered pure silver medals designed by Ralph Menconi, who produced inaugural medals for Presidents Nixon, Johnson, Kennedy, Eisenhower and Truman. They will be distributed by Presidential Art Medals for $35 each.

Value Increases

Asked if the coins will increase in value over the years, Louth stated, "I have no doubt they will. I believe in all honesty they will increase in value. The Kennedy inaugural medal sold one for $30 but is over $100 now."

But, he cautioned, "I don't like to see people buy because of speculative appeal. If you're buying for speculation then it's just like buying stock. You might get your fingers burned."

SerIALIZING was criticized by Mishler as a gimmick. "Who knows whether the coin was the first or 50th struck?" he said. "They're not always numbered in sequence." He too suggests buying almost solely on the basis of quality.

Swamps, salt-water marshes, and receding flood waters are favorite mosquito breeding grounds. Many species deposit their eggs in damp soil, but these will not hatch until covered with water.

No Mental Test Set For Viera

DETROIT (AP) — Rafael Viera, accused of the slaying of Detroit Patrolman Michael Czapski can return to New York and will not have to face a mental examination before his trial, Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Donald S. Leonard ruled Wednesday.

Leonard said he did not have enough evidence to commit Viera to an examination by the State Health Department.

The Wayne County prosecutor's office contended that Viera's Navy medical records, his behavior in court and a remark by one of his attorneys showed he might not understand the charges against him or be able to aid his attorney in his own defense.

The defense submitted Veterans Administration records from a medical examination taken earlier this year that showed Viera was not mentally ill. Leonard read the records but did not place them into the record.

Viera was bound over for trial July 30 on a charge that he shot Czapski outside the New Bethel Baptist Church March 29 after a meeting of the black separatist Republic of New Africa. Czapski's partner, Richard Worobec, was wounded seriously in the incident.

Viera was set free on $5,000 bond and last Friday asked to be allowed to return to his remedial teaching job in Brook-

Propose Moon Shuttle Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The men on the surface for up to four weeks.

He said the men would then return to the station, analyze the material they had gathered and resupply their craft for the next visit.

"I would expect by the end of the 1970s we would find so many uses for operations in synchronous orbit, both for observing the universe and for observing the earth, that we would have established a space station synchronous orbit which would be regularly supplied by a nuclear shuttle system," he said.

"This would provide us with direct television broadcasting and direct radio broadcasting to the homes of all people in the world as well as with great stellar observatories and a viewing platform for air traffic control, navigation and for a permanent weather watch."

He said that this approach to the use of space could be readily extended, once the shuttle capability has been developed, to reusable moonships could travel from the lunar orbiting base to the moon and leave six explorers.

Boy's Kidneys Given To Men

DETROIT (AP) — Two men, recipients of the kidneys of a 12-year-old boy killed in a freak plane accident Saturday, remained in satisfactory condition Wednesday in hospital intensive care units.

Both men, suffering from chronic kidney diseases, received the kidneys of David Ryskamp, who died as the result of head injuries suffered when the wing of a plane landing struck him at his father's Easy Acres Airport in Mt. Clemens.

The names of the recipients were withheld at the request of the families. One, a 40-year-old dentist, had been under intensive care at Hutzel Hospital and required an artificial kidney machine to stay alive.

The other man, 43 years old, is at Detroit General Hospital. Both received the kidneys Tuesday.
